

CARIBBEAN WOMEN IN ONE HEALTH

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY 2022

#OneHealth #InternationalWomensDay

The Covid-19 pandemic demonstrated that we are all connected. Problems such as climate change, zoonotic diseases, antimicrobial resistance, non-communicable diseases and food security affect us all.

These BIG problems swirl at the nexus of animals, environments and people. They are complex, dynamic and hard to resolve. They require an approach that cultivates and supports people and collaboration in the face of uncertainty. One Health is an approach that offers hope and a path to a sustainable future.

These Caribbean female trailblazers are working to implement #One Health related solutions, encouraging systems thinking and empowering others to work collaboratively on the Caribbean's most urgent, complex health issues.
