One Health-Social Sciences Initiative
Webinar Series

Addressing Gender Issues in One Health and Infectious Disease Preparedness
January 15, 2019

Brigitte Bagnol, PhD
and
Hellen Amuguni, DVM, MA, PhD
Gender and One Health: Where are we?

Recording available at:
https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/8153799406328739841

One Health Social Sciences Initiative (OH-SS)

Why: One Health approaches have proven potential to improve healthcare systems at many levels

“Health is a social construct.” Craig Stephen

Who: A global network with a common goal for positive change through interdisciplinary communication and collaboration

What: Dissemination of resources
Cross-pollination of ideas

How: Teleconferences
Work groups
Publications, mapping, research

Where: Globally

OHSS Initiative Chairs
Laura Streichert, PhD, MPH
Jennifer Ida, MA
Lisa Webb, DPsy, MPH, MBA
OH-SS Webinar Series

Purpose
• The purpose of the OH-SS Webinar Series is to feature inspirational speakers to address the role of social science theories and methods in One Health approaches to improve animal, human, and environmental health systems.

Previous Webinars

Helping People Make Healthy Decisions in a One Health World

Craig Stephen DVM, PhD
Western College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Saskatchewan, Canada
Canadian Cooperative Wildlife Health Centre

Recorded November 30, 2018
https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/recording/5654759009975863297
Bernadette Dunham, D.V.M., Ph.D.

Overcoming Barriers to a Collaborative and Transdisciplinary One Health Approach

Milken Institute School of Public Health
The George Washington University, USA

Recorded December 11, 2018
https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/3535433854453326595

Today’s Speakers

How did One Health become part of your career path??

Brigitte Bagnol, PhD  Hellen Amuguni, DVM, MA, PhD
Next Steps

One Health Course Modules

More Next Steps

OH-SS email list. To sign up for send message to: ohss@onehealthcommission.org

Webinar Series
Look for upcoming webinars

If you have a speaker you think can address the social science perspective on One Health, please contact: lcstreichert@gmail.com